1. The populace of Shanghai, which was pro-Communist on the entrance of the Communist Army on 1 June has in the four months since then swung to a pro-Nationalist and pro-American attitude. This is evident by their cheering of Nationalist bombing planes and the surreptitious display of American flags cut from ECA flour sacks.
2. Communist authorities, however, still maintain and enforce an anti-foreign attitude.
3. The population of Shanghai remains the same despite attempts at mass relocation.
